FALL LYCEUM LECTURE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 5 TO 7 P.M.

MCCARTHY CENTER, FORUM

Can't You Put on a Little Lipstick

Professor Laura Osterweis, Department of Communication Arts

With a series of artwork created using giveaway lipsticks from cosmetic companies, Laura Osterweis explores concepts of beauty and graphic expression with an economical use of materials. Laura recalls her grandmother's gentle urging, "Can't you put on a little lipstick?" This repeated suggestion, combined with her giveaway lipstick collection, started her thinking about how wearing lipstick contributes to our concepts of beauty. She followed her grandmother's advice and put on a little lipstick, on watercolor paper.

Her work encourages the viewer to more closely observe and think about parts of subjects that we see regularly but do not often consciously examine.

Please join us at the fall Lyceum Lecture to learn more about her work.
